INTERNATIONAL SHIPPING & FORWARDING

Authorized Economic Operator

Authorized Economic Operator

As one of the first Dutch companies to be awarded the status of Authorised Economic Operator, Rulewave leads the way when it comes to safety. This gives you the certainty you require and saves you time and money when importing your goods.

AEO status

Following the example of the C-TPAT in the United States, Europe recently also tightened up its customs legislation. Only companies that satisfy strict safety requirements are awarded Authorised Economic Operator (AEO) status. Rulewave has this status because of our personnel screening procedures and biometric security systems.

Save time and money

Our clients benefit from Rulewave's AEO status on a daily basis. Goods imported by our company are rarely subjected to physical checks. In the unlikely event that your goods are selected for inspection, this procedure is assigned high priority and takes place in the secure environment of our own warehouse! In other words, your goods are already safe and sound and will be securely stored away as soon as the procedure has been completed.
