

Steel casing

Rulewave is the logistics partner of choice for manufacturers and suppliers of Oil Country Tubular Goods. You make or sell the steel casings; we have the API-proof facilities to store and deliver them to locations around the globe.

We work as an extension of your company and are specialised in the management, storage and transport of steel casings according to API guidelines.

We go the extra yard

Rulewave has its own yard in close proximity to the Rotterdam port. The area is perfectly secured and has all the facilities required to store 2 to 60-inch casings. Ideal as a means of expanding your own storage facility at a central location in Europe and perfect for companies wishing to outsource their entire stock control of steel casings.
